

The Weather

Considerable cloudiness and quite cool today with a little rain in Southern New Jersey this morning, highest 47-52. Fair and colder tonight with low 25-35 interior. Tomorrow fair and continued quite cool.

The Levittown Times

THE Daily Newspaper of Lower Bucks County

FINAL

EDITION

VOL. 4 — No. 329

LEVITTOWN, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 9, 1956

Member of A. B. C.

20 Pages

Price, Five Cents

Big Three To Meet In Washington

Huge Buckling Television Tower Menaces
Emptied Homes After Being Hit By Plane

Ike Holds
Conference
Of Leaders

Congressional
Heads Briefed
On World Crisis

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower called congressional leaders to a White House conference today to brief them on the international crisis and to appeal for post-election unity on foreign policy.

The President had some good news to impart on the Middle East situation but a gloomy report to make on Russia's military occupation of rebellion-torn Hungary.

Mr. Eisenhower was heartened by Israel's decision to withdraw its forces from conquered Egyptian territory and last night expressed his thanks to Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion. He had asked Ben-Gurion in a personal message earlier this week to make the move on grounds that the continued presence in Egypt of Israeli troops "would seriously undermine" U. N. efforts to restore peace in the Middle East.

Peace Hopes Rise

U. S. officials were growing optimistic that the Suez Canal crisis can be settled and that the Arab-Israeli dispute can be eased without a war. They felt that the peace move by Israel and earlier peace gestures by Britain, France and Egypt have removed any pretext that the Russians might seize upon to use military force in the area.

Hungarian crisis, Russia blunt. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Good
Evening!

More like fall weather.

But it won't be typical until after the first few snow flurries. Another brisk football weekend or so and we'll be getting them.

Football? We talked ourselves into it. For tomorrow take Georgia Tech over Tennessee and Penn over Yale for a couple of neat upsets, then it's easy sailing with Princeton over Harvard, Pitt over Notre Dame and Penn State over Boston.

And no reason in the world Seranton shouldn't wallop PMC.

Uneasy peace in the Middle East.

But much more progress in bringing a cease-fire and a return to sanity in that global tinder-box that at first you may have expected.

Score a big one for the U. S. and the U. N. for establishing orderly progress which, it would seem from present encouraging developments, have prevented what may have been world catastrophe.

Russia boasting, of course, that her own threats of intervention stopped the fighting. Actually, the threats merely speeded up the processes.

United Community Fund campaign entering its closing phases and if everybody who hasn't as yet subscribed does so at once, the effort will be a highly gratifying one.

Our pleas: Once this United Fund appeal is done, let's call a halt on all major financial campaigns until the next United Fund appeal. We suspect everybody is getting mighty weary of door-bell ringing, telephone calling from somebody soliciting something.

Did you hear about the two cement mixers who ran off and got married? Now they have little sidewalk walks running around the house.

Best ten years of a woman's life are between 35 and 36.

If you drive, be careful.

Firemen on aerial ladders battle an apartment blaze in North Bergen, N. J., after a twin-engine plane—blinded by heavy fog—crashed into a huge television tower (background) and then plunged into the roof of the apartment house. At least seven persons were killed and another 30 injured.

'Directed Fall'
Is Planned
By Engineers

At Least Four Die
After Foggy Crash
Of Bi-Engine Craft

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. — UP — An 810-foot television tower, struck by a plane which crashed in flames into an apartment building, threatened today to topple into a residential area cleared of its heavy population.

Four and possibly five persons were killed when the two-engine Beechcraft plane struck the fog-shrouded tower yesterday and careened into the top floor of an apartment house five blocks away. The plane tore a 75-foot gash in the top of the 36-family building and fire gutted the fifth floor. Four persons were injured.

Mayor Angelo Sarubbi, who said engineers would attempt today to tear down the tower by "a directed drop," said, "We may lose some houses in the operation." Engineers and steeplejacks, using steel cable, waited for a 17-mile-an-hour wind to die down before tackling the dangerous task.

Sarubbi said engineers hoped to topple the teetering tower into the southeast corner of ground surrounding the transmitter. The freed part would be directed in its fall by guided wires.

State of Emergency

Sarubbi declared a state of emergency and ordered all persons evacuated from a 15 square block area in North Bergen and nearby Guttenberg.

Some 3,000 persons were evacuated and sought shelter with relatives, in nearby schools and motels in the area which offered them free lodging.

Disaster Area

The Red Cross declared the area a disaster area and provided food and shelter for the homeless. An Army truck from First Army Headquarters in New York delivered blankets and cots early today to the schools.

The pilot and co-pilot of the plane, both killed, were identified as William Lee Cromley, 32, of Trafalgar, Ind., and Russell S. Williams, Sr., 38, of Indianapolis, president of the Bonded Gasoline and Oil Company of Indianapolis. The plane was owned by Gasler, Inc., of Indianapolis.

Two women who lived on the top floor of the building also were killed.

The possibility that a fifth person might have been killed was raised when police said they discovered a "small body" in the apartment house. They said this might be the body of a child but it was burned beyond recognition.

Girls' Project Aids Lower Bucks Hospital

Members of the Tri-Hi-Y Club of the Lower Bucks County YMCA show Mrs. Lela Warner (right) community relations director of the Lower Bucks County Hospital, tea towels and mattress covers they made for the hospital. The Tri-Hi-Y members are (from left) Esclita Ething, Maureen Edwards, Virginia Kratz, president, Angela Genovese, Lydia DiFelice and Loretta Liberatore. (Courier and Times photo)

Twp. To Discuss
Drainage Fill-In

The Bristol Township Highway Committee tonight will consider applying for a Federal interest-free loan to plan piping and filling in these ditches we would make hundreds of acres of land in all drainage ditches in the township.

The committee will meet at the township municipal building to study the report on the test core borings and analysis of streets in the Kenwood and Jewwood sections of Levittown.

The tests were ordered by the Board of Commissioners last month when they discussed accepting the streets in the sections.

Harold Lefcourt, a member of the committee, said he would propose the plan to cover the drainage ditches. "By piping and filling in these ditches we would make hundreds of acres of land available for recreational and park areas. And at the same time we would eliminate safety hazards and problems of rats, mice and weeds," he said.

Open Ditches

The commissioner explained the township wouldn't necessarily have to go through with the project if it applied for the loan. If the project proved too costly or impractical the township could close the ditches.

Rotary Hears
Military Talk

An appeal for better educated and better qualified young men for the armed services was made yesterday by Col. Robert C. Belleville in an interesting discussion at the regular luncheon-meeting of the Bristol Rotary club.

Col. Belleville, who served in World War I, World War II, and throughout the Korean conflict, insisted that the nation's educational processes — schools and colleges — are not retaining standards sufficiently high to give youth the proper academic training it should have.

He agreed that well-trained men are needed for business, industry and science. But, because of requirements of the military in a highly specialized age, well-trained men are also needed for the services.

Col. Belleville is a resident and native of Yardley. He has traveled extensively throughout the world and his address was both interesting and authoritative. He was introduced by George G. Gray.

Rotary President Gene Nichols presided over the meeting, one week. Rotarian John Mitchell of the best attended in recent made a plea for support of the Rotary Foundation and Chick O'Boyle stimulated interest in a forthcoming football game whose proceeds will go to buy a new organ for the Warren Snyder school.

Sub-Freezing
Expected Tonight

The advice from the Weather Bureau at Trenton today was "bution up your overcoat."

After a partly cloudy and cool day today, the thermometers in Lower Bucks are expected to dip below freezing tonight. Temperatures tonight will be in the 20's with tomorrow to be fair and cool. Cloudy skies and cooler temperatures will last most of the weekend.

Bids Opened
For Fairless
Road Job

State Highway Dept.
Plans Making Oxford
Valley Road 4 Lanes

Bids were to be opened at noon today in Harrisburg for the widening and reconstruction of the Oxford Valley road from Fairless Hills to the intersection of US Route 1 in Falls Township. The bids will be opened in the office of Joseph J. Lawler, secretary of highways in the State Highway Department, Milton Berkes, chairman of the Falls Township Board of Supervisors, announced last night.

He said plans call for widening this heavily traveled access route to Fairless Hills and Levittown to 56 feet, making it four lanes wide. It will run 115 feet from Fairless Hills to the curve, then another 302 feet north to Route 1. The latter portion of the highway will have medial stripes according to state highway plans. The right-angle turn in the present roadway will be made gradual.

Narrow Bridge

A narrow bridge just south of the Route 1 intersection will be widened, thus eliminating one of the more hazardous bottlenecks in the area, Berkes noted. The widening of the Oxford Valley road is the first of three long-sought road improvement projects to be acted upon by the Highway Department, Berkes stated.

The second is the widening of the Newportville - Fallsington road from Fallsington to the intersection of New Rodgers road (Route 413). At present the road will be conducted December 13 way is 18 feet wide. It has been at a meeting in Allentown, N.J. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Tickets Going Fast
For Benefit Game

Bristol's Booster Bowl football Philadelphia Eagles will be an game to keep the concert organ at the game.

Horace P. Schmidt reported on school has captured the imagination and participation of several civic and business groups, the Ferraro, play the organ that afternoon at the stadium. The Hammond organ, leased for the 27th Anniversary celebration week, has been retained in the Snyder school auditorium while the committee seeks to raise the money to buy it.

Ticket Pledges

Mr. O'Boyle said he has received pledges of 100 or more tickets each from the Hollywood Barber Shop, Steve Van Buren, Inc., St. Ann's A. A., Singer's, Del Val Tavern, Fields Sporting, Burgess Anthony R. Nicol, the Bristol Rotary Club, Bristol Exchange Club, Bristol Lions Club, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Eden, Mollet
Plan To Fly
Here Shortly

British, French Heads
Will Join Eisenhower
In Middle East Talks

LONDON — (UP) — British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet are planning to fly to Washington to discuss the deteriorating Middle East situation with President Eisenhower, it was reported today.

Mollet told a press conference in Paris he was planning to go to Washington and informed sources in Paris and London said Eden was preparing to go too in an effort to mend the damage to the western alliance in the face of mysterious new Soviet moves in Europe and the Mideast.

One informed guess was that the Big Three heads of state meeting would be held by Nov. 20, but there was no official confirmation of the time either from Mollet or Eden. British diplomats merely said it was under urgent consideration.

The French National Assembly's foreign affairs commission asked the government yesterday to take the initiative in calling such a meeting and Mollet told a news conference today he "will certainly" meet with the American President.

Problem Called Delicate

But London diplomats cautioned that any initiative for an urgent meeting of the Big Three now had to be tackled with great delicacy. They felt the United States might want to keep a free hand for the time being.

The United States has emerged as the only non-committed power in the present crisis among the big nations.

Eden went before the House of Commons today to announce that Britain was pulling back home "many" of the air units from the Mideast. But he said they could be sent back into action again "in a matter of hours."

Eden announced a limited redeployment of British forces in the eastern Mediterranean as reports multiplied that Soviet and possibly Chinese Communists "volunteers" arms and warplanes might appear in Egypt at any time.

Eden told the House of Commons Britain and France were prepared to turn over the canal zone to a United Nations international police force as soon as it is effectively organized and said its formation was a matter of utmost urgency.

Expect Soviet Volunteers

Cairo dispatches said Egypt expected the "early arrival" of Soviet volunteers unless the British and French withdrew immediately. At the same time the Soviets were reported flying in MIG-17 jet fighters—their latest super-sonic models—to Syria.

Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion informed the U. N. last night he would withdraw the Israeli forces as soon as a UN police force was established. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

THERE'S GOOD
READING INSIDE
TODAY'S PAPER

● Rain doesn't stop high school harriers. William Tennent wasn't stopped either, in winning the Lower Bucks meet. Page 9

● Complete TV listings are in the Courier and Times. The New York and Philadelphia channels, plus news of programs, are a daily feature. Page 18

● Home builders and home buyers have a lot to think about. They can find help each Friday in the Courier and Times. Pages 11, 12, 13

INDEX

Amusement	8
Classified	14, 15, 16, 17
Comics	18, 19
Dr. Brady	6
Dr. Crane	6
Earl Wilson	6
Editorials	6
Editorial Board	6
Obituaries	3
TV	18
Social Club News	4, 5
Sports	9, 10
Your Birthday	17

Mrs. Elva Montgomery, 2500 First Avenue, Edgely joyfully holds her $50 check, prize in the ninth weekly Skil-Word Contest of the Bristol Courier and Levittown Times. "I can't believe it," she said when notified she won. (Courier and Times photo)

Third Deer Is Killed In Middletown

Motorists baged their third deer on Middletown Township highways last night. This time they needed assistance of police to complete the kill.

Mrs. Lawrence Layden, 54, of 636 Williams street, Trenton, knocked down a six-point buck on Route 1 near Old Lincoln highway. Mrs. Layden used the left front fender of her car to toss the charging buck through the air.

The wounded beast landed in a ditch off the side of the road. It was still alive when police arrived and Patrolman Paul Mucklow shot it.

The deer was turned over to Richard VanSant, game warden, who took it to Christ Home, Warminster Township.

On Oct. 29 another motorist brought down a doe on West Maple avenue, near Periwinkle avenue, Langhorne Terrace. Then last Sunday a deer was killed by a car on Route 1 a quarter mile Mrs. Layden's car was badly damaged, by the impact.

Three Levittown motorists figured in an accident at 9:05 o'clock last night on U.S. Route 1 at the Tyburn road intersection in Falls township.

James F. Feeney, 30, of 40 Whitewood drive, was charged with reckless driving when his vehicle struck another operated by Stephen Bottock, 37, of 15 Queen Anne road, Quincy Hollow. Bottock's car was pushed into another driven by Gilbert M. Sharpey, 28, of 94 Black Pine lane, Birch Valley. Sharpey was stopped for the traffic light at the intersection.

Damage to the three cars was slight. The mishap was investigated by Richard Chaffoux and Charles Beck, of the Falls Township police.

Big Three

(Continued from Page One) ice force is arranged. This seemed a complete reversal of Israel's previous position.

The English - language Jerusalem Post noted this reversal and said it must be "assumed" it was caused "by an open threat by Russian force to operate through Syria and Egypt" in an effort to restore Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser as a "Soviet puppet ruler."

Reports reaching Israel said a substantial force of Soviet Mig-17s had arrived in neighboring Syria. The Mig-17s are transonic fighters, a much improved version of the Mig-15 flown by Communist "volunteers" in Korea.

French Foreign Minister Guy Mollet said yesterday he had reports of large numbers of Soviet airplanes, mostly Mig-17s, in Syria. Similar reports came from Washington and there was speculation as to the whereabouts of Soviet - built bombers not destroyed in Anglo - French attacks on Egyptian airports.

Activities Cause Concern Rumors of flights of Soviet planes to the Middle East at high altitude and of massive troop movements in Europe caused serious concern in western capitals.

United Nations headquarters officials disclosed in New York that the airlift of a UN police force to the Middle East may begin today or tomorrow. The first troops are to come from Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold met with representatives of those six nations and with U. S. military representatives on an American airlift promised to fly them to the Middle East.

Israel Awaits Police Force Britain, France and Egypt previously had agreed to stationing the force on Egyptian soil and Israel announced Thursday night it would withdraw its troops as soon as the U. N. force was ready to go in.

However, there was a possibility Israel would insist on retaining the Gaza Strip and possibly two islands in the Gulf of Aqaba captured in the Sinai campaign of last week. At least one of the islands actually belongs to Saudi Arabia and new complications could arise.

The battle - shattered city of Port Said was reported relatively calm with no sniping incidents reported early today. But the situation was "uneasy" with troops uncertain what would happen now.

Knowland Says Slight Senate Edge Forces Coordination

Navy Balloonists Fail To Collect Outer Space Data

RAPID CITY, S. D. — UP — Aided to collect scientific data on the pair of Navy scientists who survived a wild plunge in their balloon from a record altitude of 14,600 feet today they descended so rapidly they had little time to compute the scientific information they were after.

Malcolm D. Ross, 36, a civilian employee, and Lt. Cmdr. M. L. Lewis, 43, stepped uninjured from their pressurized aluminum gondola 18 miles southwest of Kennedy, Neb., yesterday.

The two severed the cabin from the balloon only about one foot from the ground after it had rapidly dropped 76,000 feet and taken them 400 miles from their starting point.

The ascent shattered the record for manned balloons, set in 1935 at Rapid City, when two Army captains soared to 72,395 feet. The greatest altitude ever reached by man is 126,000 feet, reached by a piloted Air Force rocket plane last September.

Helium Escaping The four-hour flight was intended for manned balloons, set in 1935 at Rapid City, when two Army captains soared to 72,395 feet. The greatest altitude ever reached by man is 126,000 feet, reached by a piloted Air Force rocket plane last September.

Earlier announcements by the Red-run Budapest Radio said rebels holed up in the narrow streets of the old city near the former royal palace had launched new attacks on the Soviet forces. Other fighting raged on both sides of the Danube and fire raged through the vast Hotel Royal two days after the Reds had claimed complete victory.

The rebels battled Soviet tanks and troops in the city's 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 13th districts, the broadcast said. That meant fighting raged on both sides of the Danube days after the Reds had claimed victory.

Seel Factory Attacked In the 13th district, a working class area, the radio said insurgents attacked a steel factory but the Communists claimed the assault was beaten off by "factory militia."

Radio Budapest said the big Hotel Royal in the city's 7th district was burning fiercely today. It said flames spread to surrounding houses because the insurgents fired repeatedly on firemen attempting to extinguish the flames.

Hungary's puppet government already was showing signs of cracking under the double onslaught of armed rebellion and Hungarian return to work.

Fighting Around Palace The Communist Radio claimed the rest of the city was "quiet in general." But in the same broadcast it mentioned fighting around the former royal palace, indicating the patriots had seized it and may be using it as a stronghold and a base of operations.

The whole area consists of a maze of narrow streets and old buildings partly surrounded by walls which could be converted into a fortress.

There still was no indication whether the Soviets would permit urgently needed medical and food supplies to pass their roadblocks. The International Red Cross said neither the Russians nor the Communist Hungarians had replied to its request for passage.

Pennsbury Band At State College

The Pennsbury High School Band left this morning for Penn State University, in State College, to participate in "Band Day" at the university tomorrow.

Over 60 bands from all parts of the state will participate in half time festivities during the Penn State - Boston University football game.

The band will also participate in a parade through the town tomorrow morning.

The 65 band members will stay at the homes of members of the Center Hall High School band. Last year, Center Hall visited with members of the Pennsbury Band.

After dinner, a sightseeing tour of the city was taken and the day's events ended with a visit to "Masquerade Party" television show.

Ladies Aid Takes Trip to New York

The Ladies Aid of the Newport Road Community Chapel took a trip to New York City last week.

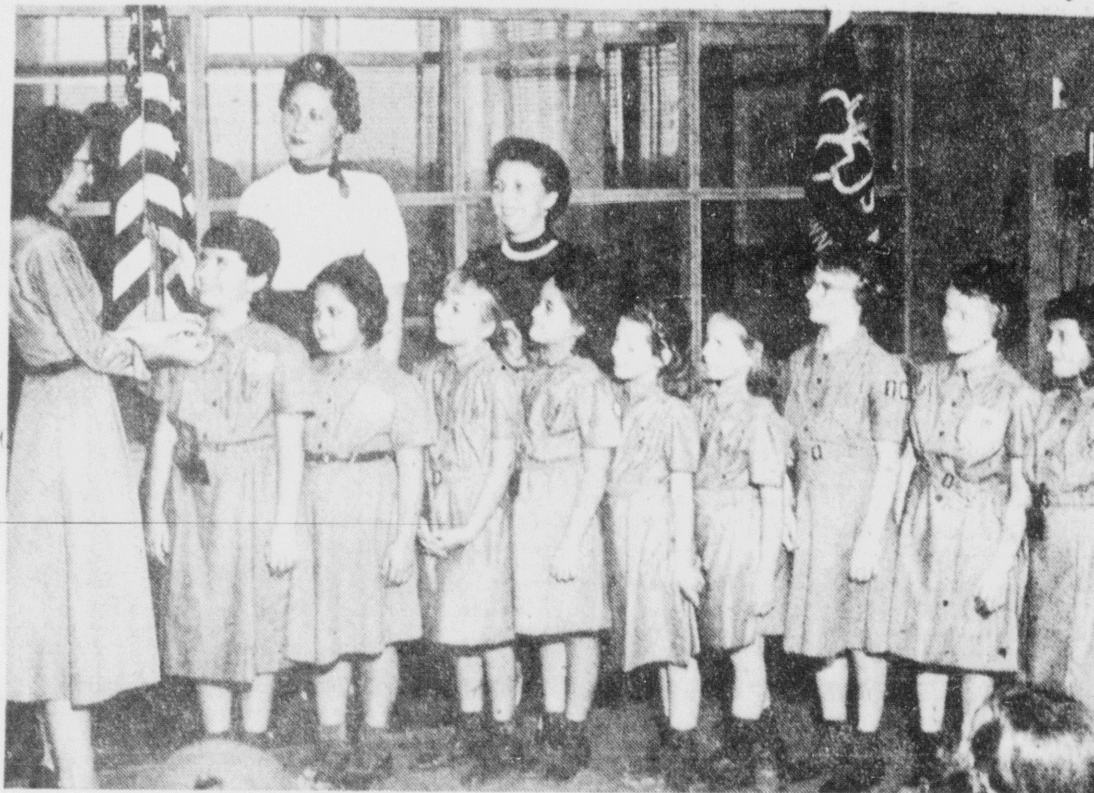

A guided tour of the United Nations building preceded luncheon at Lindy's restaurant. Following this, a Broadway play was attended.

On Havana Cruise

Donald L. Roberts, assistant chief of the Trovose Fire company, of 604 Shortleaf street, Trevoise, is on a two - week cruise to Havana, Cuba, aboard the U. S. S. Bass.

Roberts is a damage controlman with the U. S. Naval Reserve, and is an instructor at the Philadelphia Naval Base.

Levittown Brownies Hold Investiture Ceremony

Levittown Brownies, who were inducted into the Brownies group last fall, are shown by Mrs. Joan Kuhl (left) troop leader, who pins them with badges, with Mrs. Harold Noehlin and Mrs. Robert Williams assisting. The new Brownies (from left) are Evelyn Noehlin, Laura Pincus, Barbara Williams, Barbara Epstein, Gail Walterick, Jeanne Fitzpatrick, Carol Mazzocchi, Sharon Linscott and Marlene DiPascale. (Courier and Times photo)

The Levittown Times

THE Daily Newspaper of Lower Bucks County

Friday Evening, November 9, 1956 Second Front Page

Parade, Air Salute To Mark Fallsington Doughboy Rites

The picturesque doughboy memorial in Fallsington's Meeting House Square will be rededicated with a new flag pole Sunday in a Veterans Day ceremony that will include a vast parade and a salute from the air.

Sponsored by Falls Township American Legion Post 834, the ceremony will start and end at the Post home, Yardley avenue, formation point for the parade and scene of an open house.

Marching Units Program Chairman James J. Mitchell Jr., said the veterans will meet at the Legion home at 1:30 p.m., to march down Hulmeville road and Main street to the Square. Marching with the Falls veterans and their Auxiliary will be the Morrisville American Legion Post and Auxiliary, men of the U. S. Marine Corps, with cannons, township fire companies and the police department, Boy Scout Troop 40, Girl Scouts, Bucks County Rescue Squad and Civil Defense Units.

The ceremony at the doughboy monument, built by village sons to honor veterans of World War I, will start at 2 p.m.

Lt. Col. John McClelland, of the U. S. Marine Corps, will be featured speaker in the program, which will open with a prayer by the Rev. Daniel Stevick, pastor of All Saints Episcopal Church.

Also speaking will be Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton, historian and author and president of Historic Fallsington, Inc.

John Melvin, Falls justice of the peace and former commander of the township Legion Post, will make the introductions. Civil Air Patrol planes will fly overhead, to highlight its importance and permanence.

To close the ceremony, the colors will be raised on the new flag pole.

Post Home Display The Marine Corps will display a helicopter troop landing drill in the post home, which will be open to the public from 1 to 3 p.m., Mr. Mitchell said.

Charles (Pat) Shisler, a Falls Legionnaire whose name is among the World War veterans honored on the doughboy marker, is directing the preparation of the flag pole. A concrete walk will make the introductions. Civil Air Patrol planes will fly overhead, to highlight its importance and permanence.

Elementary Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.

Conferences in such areas as art, language arts, music, reading, research, science, social studies, and general were offered to the teachers.

Other teachers visited schools to study teaching programs.

Junior and senior high school teachers attended departmental workshops in their respective schools.

These conferences were planned so the teachers can co-ordinate the teaching program within various departments.

A typical study conference was that of the English and Social

Studies departments at Delhaas High school. Teachers met to begin work on details of outlines for each course. Teachers also met with the Business Department to draw up a uniform business letter form for Delhaas students, after which they met with the Social Studies department to agree upon a form for term and research papers.

Elementary

Elementary teachers attended conferences, previously selected, to study individual phases of the elementary teaching program. Each group had an outside consultant as an advisor.